

Acoustic Consultant/Senior Acoustic Consultant

We are looking for an Acoustic Consultant / Senior Consultant to complement our friendly, flexible and growing team. We are an independent consultancy based in Bolton. Our team works predominantly across the northwest of England but covers the whole of the UK, carrying out environmental noise assessments, architectural acoustic design and sound insulation testing. We have a wide variety of projects across many different sectors.

Key Responsibilities

- Assisting in environmental noise assessments for a wide range of projects, including completion of noise & vibration surveys, data processing, 3D noise modelling using CadnaA, carrying out assessments, and preparing technical reports to a high standard.
- Conducting sound insulation testing.

Requirements

- BSc/MSc in acoustics, sound engineering or physics
- Technician membership or AMIOA. Membership of the Institute of Acoustics would be an advantage, but not a requirement.
- Valid UK driving licence (this is essential).
- Excellent organisational skills.

Why work for Miller Goodall?

We believe in prioritising a healthy work-life balance, flexibility and fun. And we're not just saying that – when you work for Miller Goodall, you'll become part of a team which benefits from:

- Well-being allowances (to spend on gym memberships, fitness equipment or dental care for example)
- Enhanced employer contribution to pension
- Additional annual leave for your birthday after one year of employment and upon long service
- Excellent training and development opportunities
- Highly competitive salaries
- Staff socials and team building days