

Who we are & what we stand for:

At BWB Consulting, we're more than an engineering and environmental design consultancy – we're a team of innovators, problem-solvers and trusted partners. Our reputation for technical excellence and outstanding client service has made us one of the UK's most respected consultancies – and it's a reputation we're proud to keep building.

We don't just say we're award-winning – we live it. In fact, we were named ACE Best Large Consultancy of the Year 2022, a recognition of our drive to deliver projects that make a real difference.

But what really sets us apart is our people. We're proud to hold Investors in People and Investors in Wellbeing accreditations – because for us, success is about creating an environment where brilliant people can thrive.

What you'll be doing:

Step into a role where no two days are the same. You'll be working on a variety of specialist technical projects, including onsite noise and vibration monitoring, modelling, analysis and reporting.

From the very beginning, you'll be hands-on with Environmental Acoustics projects, taking them from proposal through to completion and seeing the real impact of your work.

You'll also have the chance to:

- Grow your expertise through technical learning and development opportunities.
- Collaborate across disciplines on exciting, large-scale projects – from new roads and railways, to high-rise city centre buildings, retail developments, renewable energy schemes, and commercial/industrial sites.
- Work closely with clients, supporting projects across the UK, strengthening existing relationships and showcasing the full range of what BWB has to offer.

What you'll bring:

- A relevant Acoustics related degree / qualifications.
- Environmental Acoustics related Consultancy experience is essential.
- Experience of EIA/DCO projects would be advantageous.
- Demonstrable experience in environmental noise surveys and noise modelling (experience of CadnaA noise modelling software is desirable).
- Experience of project management and project financial management.
- Keen to share your ideas about how we can do things better.
- Enthusiastic and ambitious to learn and progress.
- A problem solver with strong oral and written communication skills.
- A highly organised individual, with the ability to meet deadlines, prioritise work and react calmly and proactively in a range of situations.
- The ability to work well within a team and work individually.
- Junior team member mentoring experience is preferable.
- A UK driving licence and willingness to drive for work purposes.

What We Offer at BWB Consulting

At BWB, our people come first. We're proud to be a Disability Confident employer and a signatory of the Armed Forces Covenant, creating an inclusive workplace where everyone can thrive.

- Be your authentic self – we value individuality and diversity.
- Competitive rewards – including salary, 25 days holiday (with option to buy more), life assurance and a 5% matched pension.
- Wellbeing support – healthcare cash plan, confidential advice, and wellbeing initiatives.
- Career growth – hybrid working, funded learning, chartership support and professional subscriptions.
- Extra perks – Cycle to Work scheme, volunteering days, social events, discounts and long service awards.

If you need adjustments to our recruitment process, just let us know – we'll support you every step of the way.

To apply please click here