

Join our team and enjoy excellent career prospects, as a key member of our expanding acoustic consultancy...

Quantum Acoustics Ltd was formed in 2022 by four Directors from a leading UK acoustic consultancy, with over 100 years combined experience covering all project types. We are growing fast and aim to become one of the UK's leading independent acoustic consultancies. We have a rapidly expanding workload, including many prestigious and/or stimulating projects.

We have offices in London and Surrey. We would consider opening new offices for the right candidate.

We are looking for ambitious people to join our team at any level. You should exude enthusiasm, have a passion for acoustics, strive for excellence and be self-motivated to achieve success.

We offer flexible working arrangements, at least 25 days annual leave (plus Bank Holidays), pension scheme and all the usual benefits you would expect. Most importantly, we are uniquely able to offer an excellent accelerated learning environment for less experienced consultants, truly exciting future prospects at all levels - plus a friendly work culture reflecting the importance of a great work/life balance.

A full driving license is essential.
