

Senior Acoustic Consultant – Construction

Anderson Acoustics is an employee-owned environmental consultancy providing acoustics, noise, vibration, air quality and community engagement services to clients in the construction, planning and aviation sectors. We have a large construction noise team operating from our Brighton and London Bridge offices working on projects including HS2, Tideway, Crossrail and Heathrow Expansion.

We are looking to recruit a Senior Acoustic Consultant with 6+ years' experience to directly manage strategic construction projects and provide leadership for our London-based construction projects and team members. This is a senior role which will help define company strategy, deliver targeted growth, support our unique culture and develop our team.

Responsibilities

- Manage projects from a technical, financial, quality and client satisfaction perspective
- Support the Principal Environmental Consultant on major projects
- Be the face of Anderson Acoustics to the client
- Work 1-2 days a week on-site as part of the client environment team
- Obtain Section 61 consents on behalf of the client
- Manage and deliver client reports
- Monitor and report on S61 compliance
- Analyse data and turn it into insight
- Manage, mentor and develop team members
- Lead or participate in client meetings
- Liaise with planning authorities and stakeholders

Required Skills

- Working on own initiative
- Strong interpersonal skills with clients and colleagues
- Good team working skills
- Comfortable in a flat, non-hierarchical organisation
- Construction noise modelling
- Strong understanding of BS5228
- Ability to apply skills, experience and mindset to new opportunities
- Commercially aware, knows how to deal with difficult construction clients

Professional Qualifications

- A degree or post graduate qualification in acoustics
- Membership of the Institute of Acoustics

What we offer:

We want all our people to enjoy working with us. We offer an environment where you matter far more than your chargeability. We're committed to your development and provide support, training and mentoring. We offer a competitive salary, pension, employee ownership profit-share and a great working environment in the heart of Brighton or London Bridge.

As an employee-owned company, all of the team own an equal share of Anderson Acoustics and we are offering the same to those that join us. Being employee-owned means we are masters of our own destiny and directly benefit from our success, making us more committed, more innovative and more transparent.
