

Penguin Recruitment is a specialist recruitment company offering services to the Environmental Industry

Graduate Acoustic Consultant – St Albans

£22,000+

A European environmental consultancy requires an enthusiastic graduate to join the rapidly expanding team. They offer a wide range of Acoustic services to the environment planners through noise and vibration surveying and assessing. The right candidate will possess a relevant degree in Acoustics, the ability to undertake noise surveys and analyse the technical data and then produce reports to the highest of standards. For any graduate looking to begin a successful career in Acoustics, then this opportunity is not one to miss.

Senior Acoustics Consultant – London

£35,000+, plus benefits

A globally recognised organization that provides leading architectural and design focused acoustic consultancy, are looking to recruit to a Senior Acoustics Consultant to join their team in London. You need to have several years Acoustics Consultancy experience and have a proven track in project management. Responsibilities will include undertaking architectural design, writing technical reports, inputting into business development plans, liaising with clients, and the involvement in some of London's most exciting projects including performance spaces, historical buildings and some of the capital's most iconic landmarks.

Technical Sales Executive – West Midlands

£30,000-40,000, plus bonus

Our Client is leading supplier of noise control products to a range of commercial and public sectors clients, and are looking for a Technical Sales Executive to be based in the West Midlands. You will be responsible for the sales of products such as vibration isolators, acoustical flooring and vibration mounts. Liaising between clients and other industry contacts you will provide technical guidance from preplanning to completion on projects, and ensure that maximum up selling of the company's products is achieved. You need to have a proven track record in acoustics sales within markets such as schools, hospitals, residential and gyms, and be a confident communicator with good business acumen. You will need to possess commercial experience with the Acoustics noise control sector and a full clean driving license. On offer is competitive salary, generous bonus structure and flexible benefits package, with also the opportunity to travel abroad to the company's other locations such as; Canada, Singapore or Dubai.

Principal Acoustic consultant - Brighton

£45,000+, plus benefits

A leading multidisciplinary consultancy, with a specialised focus in the Power and Energy industry, is actively looking to recruit an exceptional Principal Acoustic Consultant capable of leading their team in Brighton.

The successful candidate will have a minimum of a BSc and an IoA Diploma in Acoustics. They should also have extensive acoustic consultancy experience, and a proven ability to manage a specialist, and rapidly expanding team.

Duties will include project, team, and financial management, report writing, acoustic modelling, client liaison, etc.

Those with previous experience in the power and energy industry will have a distinct advantage, and the successful candidate will be required to travel as and when required, so a level of flexibility is desired.

My client is offering a competitive starting salary, along with the ability to govern your own reputable team, in an idealist location, within friendly and dynamic multidisciplinary office

Senior Acoustic Consultant – Manchester

£35,000+

Fast expanding Acoustic consultancy require an experienced Senior Acoustic consultant to join the newly formed Manchester team, drawing on a proven Acoustics track record to ensure business development continues. Projects include multi-million-pound commercial and residential infrastructure, with the team of experts working closely alongside clients to provide a tailor-made service. With 4 years' industry experience, the right candidate will have a relevant Acoustics degree and ideally an Institute of Acoustics Diploma.

Senior Acoustic Consultant – Bristol

£35,000+

A multi-disciplinary engineering consultancy, boasting a portfolio of multi-million-pound projects, are searching for someone to lead to the Acoustic team based in Bristol. They are looking for a candidate with a proven track record of working within the Acoustics industry, a relevant degree or post graduate diploma in Acoustics and excellent interpersonal skills. Knowledge of British and International Standards is essential, as you will be liaising with authorities and contractors, and attending site and design team meetings. Ideally, you will hold membership to the IoA and have experience with programs such as BIM and CAD.

Interested in our current Acoustic job opportunities? Please do not hesitate contact Amir Gharaati on 01792 365 007 or email

amir.gharaati@penguinrecruitment.co.uk

We have many more vacancies available on our website. Please refer to www.penguinrecruitment.co.uk. Penguin Recruitment is operating as a Recruitment Agency in respect to these positions.