

GRADUATE CONSULTANTS

RBA Acoustics, an Institute of Acoustics (IOA) and Association of Noise Consultants (ANC) award winning acoustic consultancy practice, is seeking intelligent and hard-working acoustic graduates to join our team, with opportunities in our head office in London.

With a wide range of services, we provide our clients with practical and reliable advice on all acoustics, noise and vibration issues. You will gain experience and insight into roles within acoustics and related technical disciplines, have exposure to all aspects of our business and act as a support to all our staff members.

It is therefore essential that you are quick to grasp new concepts and face all tasks with enthusiasm. RBA offer a competitive salary and bonus scheme alongside a working atmosphere that is second to none.

If you think RBA is the right move for you please email your covering letter and CV to robert.barlow@rba-acoustics.co.uk.
