

HODKINSON

Hodkinson Consultancy is a leading energy and environmental consultancy for planning and development. We are located in the beautiful canal-side surroundings of Rickmansworth, Hertfordshire, northwest of central London.

We have an impressive portfolio of housing, commercial and mixed-use developments across the country.

Associate Director of Acoustics

We are looking for an Acoustic Consultant with 8+ years' experience in environmental and building acoustics to lead and develop our expanding Acoustics Team.

We are growing our acoustics consultancy to complement our already well-established service offering, covering all aspects of energy and environmental design.

Successful candidates will have:

- > Full Membership of the IOA
- > Knowledge of internal sound insulation, building envelope, vibration and structure borne noise, room acoustics, environmental noise impact assessment and building services noise and vibration
- > Experience managing people
- > Proven capability of managing multiple projects
- > Ability to build and maintain client relationships, attend meetings and discuss multiple service areas
- > Desire to technically lead and develop the Acoustics Team
- > Working knowledge of multiple Hodkinson service areas (including understanding how Acoustics interacts with these)
- > Demonstrable experience in business development and proposal preparation
- > Excellent communication, presentation skills and report writing

Salary commensurate to experience. Attractive benefits package including quarterly bonus scheme.

To apply, please send your CV and a short cover letter outlining your suitability for the role to katepaxton@hodkinsonconsultancy.com

Find out more about us at hodkinsonconsultancy.com