

Acoustic Consultant Required – Junior Level

As our business continues to grow, we are looking for a junior / graduate acoustician in order to drive our vision forward and continue to provide the highest standard of service to our customers.

We are looking for outgoing candidates who want to be an integral part of the progress of their company, going beyond the engineering tasks and delivering excellence on a daily basis.

The right candidates will meet the following requirements:

- A degree (or equivalent) in Acoustics or a related subject is preferable
- Some experience in acoustic consultancy will be valued but not essential
- Full UK (or European equivalent) driving license
- Able to manage time and organise own workload
- Able to work well in a team
- Active in sharing knowledge with other members of the team
- Highly motivated and keen to learn and develop their skills
- Positive and work with a cooperative attitude
- Reliable and dependable
- Flexible to business and client needs
- Able to carry out work in a range of environments, including construction sites, industrial buildings and public spaces in a safe and effective manner
- Able to follow the direction of senior colleagues, whilst also able to work under their own initiative, with appropriate support when needed

Our staff being our best asset, we strive to offer an enjoyable working environment.

If you are keen to take up this challenging and rewarding position, please send your CV to careers@clementacoustics.co.uk.
